

Transcode Technologies

<https://transcode.co.ke/job/android-developer/>

Android Developer

Description

We are looking for a passionate Android Software Developer to join our growing engineering department

Responsibilities

- Programming of software products, features and services for Google's Android platform within the mobile product roadmap.
- Participation in software design, estimation of development tasks, unit-testing, QA process, troubleshooting & code debugging
- Liaison with partners including, but not limited to Product Managers, Designers and other developers and third party development houses

Qualifications

- Solid Android development – include links to apps you have worked on
- Understanding of version control systems, preferably Git
- Experience of Continuous Integration
- 2 years of professional software development experience
- Experience working in Agile development environments
- Solid experience of Object Oriented software design and related methodologies
- Mobile development experience outside of Android devices, e.g. iOS
- Experience with server side software development technologies e.g. Java, .Net, Python
- Web development technologies – Html, JavaScript, CSS

Education

Bsc or Higher Diploma in Computer Science, IT or Engineering

Contacts

hr@transcode.co.ke

Hiring organization

Transcode Technologies

Employment Type

Full-time, Part-time

Duration of employment

Permanent

Base Salary

KES 40000 - KES 80000

Date posted

January 28, 2022

Valid through

04.02.2022